

Faith Hill (Rlr)(Oop) (Real-Life Reader Biography)

In 1995, People magazine put Faith Hill on its list of 50 Most Beautiful People. It took her ten years after high school to accomplish this. It took several more years before she was a household name. But looking back on her accomplishments, Faith remembers how she thought she could easily make a name for herself in Nashville. When she arrived right out of high school, she dreamed of singing at the Grand Ole Opry and being whisked around the country on her own music tour immediately. After many years of hard work, she now knows what it takes to make a career in the music business. A woman who values her family first and loves her career second has never faltered with her rise to fame. Amidst the confusion and hoopla, Faith Hill can change her baby's diaper one moment, sing on stage the next, and calls the shots for her own career.
