

Garden (Hand-Made Habitats)

This book is part of a series which introduces children to wildlife habitats, using simple equipment which they can make themselves. The habitats can be built in the town or the countryside, at home or at school and can teach children about the creatures which their habitats attract. This book shows how to plan and plant a colour or sensory garden, grow plants to attract butterflies and bees, provide shelter for small mammals and investigate the animals which the garden attracts.
